Excerpt: . dinner toilette, the veteran knight marshalled his divisions, and commanded the expedition, with an earnestness and a gravity. which evidently showed him as much interested in- this predatory warfare upon blooms and odours, as his well disciplined lilt4p troops. Some error, however, in their evolutions, just as the word of command- was given, struck the- General Lafayette himself, who commanded a halt, and suggested the experience of his counsel to the science of the Maltese tactics. It was curious to observe the representative of the Grand Masters of the knights of St John, of Jerusalem, and the General commandant of the national army of FraBce, manœuvring this little nfle corps, and taming powers that had once their influence over the fate o Europe, against corn flowers and May-sweets. I was deirou to know how Bonaparte seemed affected al the moment that- General- Lafayette, at the head of the deputation...
